Locally owned and operated, J. Render's is a central Kentucky staple. The Render's brand began in 2012 when Gwyn and Ren Everly turned their food truck dream into a reality. After four successful years running their food truck, "Big Red," along with a steady catering business, word had spread about their delicious food and great service. And so, on May 31, 2016, the Everlys opened a brand new Brick and Mortar restaurant, J. Render's Southern Table & Bar. When asked about the name's origin, Gwyn says, "My husband's name is John Render Everly, and we just thought J. Render's was the perfect name."

Offering a variety of made-from-scratch southern dishes, J. Render's Southern Table & Bar is well known for its delicious smoked meats, patio seating, signature sauces, daily happy hour, and genuine hospitality, all in a vibrant upscale setting. The restaurant boasts a full bar with over 22 Bourbons to choose from, not to mention local craft beer, wine, and craft cocktails. Diners can select from a variety of appetizers, interesting salads, specialty sandwiches, and Southern sides. The meat is smoked on-site, and sides and desserts are made from scratch with four incredible signature sauces. All of this, combined with live music on Monday nights and the weekends, make it the perfect spot for a quick lunch, a night on the town, or a family dinner. Render's is also the closest restaurant and bar to Keeneland Racetrack, making it the perfect stop before or after a day at the races.

In 2022 the J. Render's Speakeasy was opened. This private event space holds up to 50 people and has full A/V capabilities. When renting The Speakeasy, customers are provided a customizable menu and enjoy exclusive use of the ritzy, private space. It is perfect for business meetings, birthday parties, bridal/baby showers, ball game-watching, celebrations of life, and more.

J. Render's has also become an increasingly popular choice for catering in the Bluegrass, serving up southern fare at weddings, parties, and corporate events. Delivery is also available through their "Que to You" program.

J. Render's believes wholeheartedly in giving back to their community and actively partners with non-profits and community groups through their "Dine to Donate" program. They have been recognized by America's SBDC with the 2022 Small Business Advocate Award and the 2021 Kentucky Pacesetter Award for their philanthropy and strong community involvement. #seeyouatrenders
